

House Arrest - AI Recognition - Corona Virus

Ha az emberek nem fogják képviselni magukat, mit fognak tenni mikor az erőfeszítésük haszna mindenkiért van?

"If men will not act for themselves, what will they do when the benefit of their effort is for all?"

What we're actually seeing is the systematic implementation of the fall of the Republic and the rise of the corporation. Every major event is a step in the ladder to achieve that end. Covid is just another rung in the ladder, which is why there's a deliberate mixing of the wordplay, right? I mean, we, we should stop calling it 'quarantine;' that's a term designated for people verified to be sick. This is a house arrest, mandated by the state. You should stop calling it "social distancing;" there's nothing social about forced isolation. We should stop saying "safer at home" when millions of Americans don't have basic necessities adequate to fit their needs; it assumes that everybody's home is equally as safe as the people making the statements. We should stop saying, you know, "This is for the greater good," right? When you close the economy, killing millions of businesses and families that have worked generations to establish, it is anything but good. We should stop saying "This is the new normal." That's just blatant mind control drivel. There's nothing normal about forced isolation, you know? Treating your neighbor like they have the plague, breathing your own bodily waste, wearing masks, living in constant fear of contamination, that's normal? I mean, after all, if the virus is so deadly, why hasn't it wiped out the homeless who don't social distance, wash themselves regularly, let alone, you know, have access to a sterile environment?

Last year, 1.5 million people died of tuberculosis. Why were you not wearing a mask because of the tuberculosis pandemic? You were endangering your public health and safety along with billions of other people around the globe. So why didn't you wear a mask? I'll tell you why. Because the mainstream media didn't tell you to wear a mask. Huh, right? It's because when the 1.5 million people died from tuberculosis, there was no tuberculosis pandemic, anymore than there's a corona virus pandemic.

What you're really participating in is a beta test for AI systems in facial recognition. You see, these cameras work best when, you know, people are distance apart. Now they're actually testing through machine learning, how, you know, to recognize a face that's partially covered. It's also a way to easily determine who's compliant and who's not. Who does the propaganda work on? And who it doesn't.

Now get this. There are some ironies here, right? A society that kills millions of babies in the womb each year for convenience has shut itself down to prevent adults from dying. People on the one hand slaughter babies in the womb, by the millions, are now preaching to the masses about the sanctity of human life. It's double-speak, double-talk. It's the the two doctrine policy: one for the initiated and one for the uninitiated. One for the inner-circle and one for the masses. It's like saying, "If I violate the stay at home order, I can be arrested, but you're letting convicted criminals out of prisons so they don't get corona virus. Thesis, antithesis, synthesis. If there's a real pandemic, does it require faulty virus models, rigged test results, 81% false-positives, inaccurate news reportings, staged hospital overruns, manipulated death certificates? Nope!

You know, when the government shuts down millions of small businesses, but doesn't layoff any government employees, it's not about the health. When a state bans dentists from practicing, but deems it necessary for abortion clinics to stay open, it's not about your health. When the state prevents you from buying seeds for your garden, but allows you to purchase lottery tickets, it's not about your health. An institution that has the ability to destroy all of Earth through alleged nuclear warfare, should not regulate personal self-defense. An institution caught trafficking drugs shouldn't be able to regulate plants. An institution that has racked up 23 trillion prior to corona virus—in debt, shouldn't be allowed to manage the retirement fund. An institution caught spreading STDs should not be allowed to run healthcare.

If people are really concerned about public health and safety, in general, but they don't care if people eat garbage, drink poisons, smoke cancer and take prescription drugs, but think that toilet paper and hand sanitizer and masks are gonna protect them from the bogeyman corona virus, you know, this is a special kind of stupid that I can't address here.

You should ask yourself some basic questions. When did you consent from you creating a government to serve you to you serving the government ruling over you? If you wanna know who's in charge, just think about who you can and can't criticize.
