

The Puppet Master Part 4

Through the Open Society Foundation, he donates almost a half a billion dollars annually to charity causes all around the globe. Well, that's fantastic, that's fantastic. I love people who give a lot of money to charity. I think that's fantastic, I do. Now, when you look at a charity—this is what I learned when I tried to be responsible with my money, you look at people as an investment. Who's..what's the best way to invest in people? But you need, if you're going to give away a half billion dollars every single year, you'd better have someone who really knows how to manage it, and you'd better have someone who has a big, big heart. Who is the person to head up your charitable arm, Mr. Soros?

Well, he found, I mean, he found the founder of SDS, the radical student group from the 1960s. You remember, you remember the Days of Rage riots? Yea. Oh, and the spin-off group, the Weather Underground? Just the guy who started this stuff, that's who heads the charitable arm. It's almost like subversive activities are kinda fun to Mr. Soros, under the cover of humanitarian aid. So OSI spreads the money all over the country, but I'm sure, I'm sure the head of OSI, he's probably changed. One of the things that OSI funded was the Shadow Conventions in 2000. He funded 1/3 of the Shadow Convention, who's hosted here.

Unless you were an advocate of CSPAN watcher (He shows a picture of Arianna Huffington), you probably don't remember them. It was an attempt to focus on the issues the parties just won't touch. Issues like campaign finance reform. Wait a minute, last night—campaign finance reform. Now that's a good humanitarian thing, isn't it? Seriously, that's going to feed a lot of children. Campaign finance reform, remember we said he spent a million, over a hundred million dollars to get campaign finance reform, and what happened? Oh yea, I remember, it lead the boom in 501C3s, like MoveOn.org, or MediaMatters, or any of the other things he seems to fund. They can take in as much money as they want. And now all of those political organizations are controlled by George Soros. But remember, it's humanitarian. One of the organizers of the Shadow Convention was Arianna Huffington, which is now getting the Huffington Post money from George Soros to be able to hire reporters. Isn't that great?

She was introducing here, in 2000, at the Shadow Convention, she was introducing somebody else, another guest speaker, another co-organizer of the event. Watch! "We are now moving to the second issue of the Shadow Convention, the persistence of poverty in the middle of our prosperity, and it gives me great pleasure to welcome one of our conveners, the Reverend Jim Wallis, the head of the (??) a new coalition of churches to fight poverty, and the editor of Sojourners Magazine. He's also been a mentor and inspiration to me, so get ready to be inspired, Jim Wallis."

Praise be to Jesus, Jim Wallis, Sojourners, "faith, politics, culture." That's right, didn't he get a bunch of money recently so he could help boycott me? That's right, I remember him now. Sojourners, another group funded by OSI, George Soros, an atheist, dumping a whole bunch of money into a Christian organization. That almost doesn't make sense. Oh but it's humanitarian. It kind of makes you question the motives, though, doesn't it? Of course it doesn't take long to see his attraction toward Jim Wallis because he's a big government progressive. The solution is not with the people in the churches, it is get everybody into the government. He's infiltrating the churches. You see how this works? I know, I know Mr. Soros, it's just humanitarian aid.

Step number 2 is to control the airwaves. Has George Soros done this at all? Well, Open Society, it's very innocent here. I mean it's as pure as the driven snow, recently donated 1.8 million dollars so that NPR could hire new journalists—do we have the NPR thing? Yea, 1.8 million dollars so they could hire a hundred journalists, and then Soros wrote a hundred million dollar check to MediaMatters to go along with NPR, which was great. Their stated goal, by the way, what got them to write that was they were going to get me off the air, and then destroy FOX (News). Isn't that great? By the way, he gave that million dollars, and all of that money, after we were threatened, I mean, we were given a gift by Mr. Soros, and they realized that I wouldn't shut up. I wouldn't stop, and so I guess he decided "I'm going to have to destroy him another way." A million dollars also to the TeaPartyTracker.org. This is a website that they developed with the NAACP (National Association for the Advancement of Colored People). It's media staff is supposed to expose the intolerant element of the Tea Party. Then the NAACP takes its content and collaborates with Think Progress, another Soros funded group, along with MediaMatters, and there you go.

The next three steps, next:

We're talking for the plan for control, George Soros uses to take control of governments, the first one was form a Shadow Government using humanitarian aid as a cover, in George Soros' words, "subversive activities." By the way, here's Sourjourners, here's a letter a friend of mine gave me today. Me on the cover. Glenn Beck doesn't like us, so we must be doing something right. It's a fundraising letter for this guy. Number 2, control the airwaves. Is he doing that? Uh, yes. Number 3, destabilize the state, and weaken the government, and build an anti-government sentiment. Ok, so is he doing this?

Well, again, we go back to his organization, his humanitarian organization. Heavily funds the TIDES Foundation. The TIDES Foundation, 4.2 million dollars. They're the ones that funded the anti-capitalist "Story of Stuff" indoctrination videos we have told you that helps kids resent the government that supports a free-market system. Tides, itself takes some of its money and then sends it onto places like the APOLLO Alliance, the home of Van Jones (appointed by Obama as Special Advisor for Green Jobs, and a self-proclaimed, devout communist). They're the ones who crafted the stimulus bill, you know, for the little guy, like Andy Stern. I think we all know how everyone feels about the stimulus bill. Also, OSI decides they're going to fund a place called The Center for American Progress. That's a progressive think tank to turn out big government ideas, and who get their ideas from another group, OSI funds, the IPS. This is the Institute for Policy Studies. You know what they've just come out with? This is great. They've just come out with a couple of things. First, President Obama needs to bypass congress and issue more executive orders now that the election is over. And they've come out with this exciting new report that says, "Outside Pressure, Inside Strategy." Wow, that sounds familiar. Inside strategy, outside pressure. It's almost like, bottom up, top down. What am I remembering here?

Oh yea. I remember Czechoslovakia--top to bottom, bottom to top, inside out. Remind me of that, along with George Soros and Van Jones in just a few minutes. I'll show you something that will blow your mind. Step 4. Step 4 is, provoke an election crisis. Well, of course, they haven't done anything like that. (He then puts up the ACORN logo. ACORN was accused of massive voter fraud to help Obama get elected. Obama was also an attorney for them. They are undoubtedly fraudulent.) Where you lose confidence in the vote. No, no, no of course not. Of course you have OSI funding ACORN. This is a group that is willing to sell human sex slave traffickers, and give them a tax break. Soros also created this, SOS, the Secretary of State project. This is a group that is specifically designed to groom and elect Secretary of States around the nation, because they're the ones who have to certify election results. How do you think ... what's his name ... got in last time? 'member all that? Al Franken is ... Who's this project? Isn't that weird? They're the ones that call the shots. And Soros has pumped millions of dollars in voter-related groups, some legitimate, some get caught doing illegal things, some are kinda a little shady. I like this one myself, OneAmerica Votes. They get money from the TIDES. Remember, Soros funds that group. They sent illegal immigrants in Washington State, just before this last election to tell people that they were illegal, but you should get out and vote. There's George Soros for you.

And then step number 5. Take power. Take power. This one is kinda hand in hand with staged demonstrations. This one's about to come. And we've already seen the beginnings of it. The OneNation Rally. We saw this. This is the labor union rally in DC in response to 8/28, a project of the TIDES Center, a.k.a., George Soros group. OSI also donated to the RUCUS Society. They're an environmental, a radical environmental justice group known for their aggressive tactics. Remember that was the guy I told you about last night that was causing all of the riots in Seattle? Then OSI has donated to several groups who are trying to get me off the air. You have FAITH in Public life, that's funded OSI. They're calling for my head. You have Sojourners, of course they're calling for my head. You have MediaMatters, all of them out of the pocket of George Soros.

Mark my words, and I believe that I've said that for the last 2 years on inflation. As I've told you, massive inflation will come, and you're beginning to see it now. Staged demonstrations, and riots in the street. You will see them here. What's you're seeing today in the U.K. This is students demonstrating in the streets. That's a demonstration, by the way. They will come here too, because, what are they rioting about? That they are cutting services at schools, and raising tuitions. Really? Well, they will come. And they will be orchestrated, funded, or they will be exploited by Soros-like groups.

If you're watching this show, and George Soros is the Puppet Master, so I'm sure he's having someone else watch it. What happens? What happens to all of these groups? This man is playing god. He thinks he's god. God created the earth in 6 days, and then rested on the 7th. Well, George Soros has created all of these things, and believe me it's not just ... in fact, here.

Do you have this? Yea, come here Aaron, come here. Can you stand over here? The lovely and talented Aaron. These are the Open Society, these are just the things he has donated to. I just want to show you because we don't have a lot of time, so I just wanted to show you the list. These are the lists of the organizations that are involved in these 5 steps, and we wrote it out for ya, but I just wanted to show you that it's no big deal, it's not like you're overpowered or anything like this. Um, there's more. This is less than half of them, but other than that, there's nothing to see here. Just move on with your lives. Nothing to see here folks.

Alright, I wanna show you some video that has been bothering me for awhile, and I mentioned it at the top of the hour, and also yesterday. I think this will tie things together. I hope it does if you watch both episodes. The first one is from Birtha Louis. She's in front of a bunch of Young Socialists of America, and here's what she says. "Organize! Get out into the street! You really have got to circle the wagons This is not rhetoric or hyperbole, this is real." She talks in here about these Tea Partiers are going to come and get you. This is just like when they rounded up the Japaneze. I mean, it's quite a stirring speech. That bothered me, that really bothered me, because I do believe, take power is the next step here, staged demonstrations. Riots—they need trouble, but something bothered me even more.

In the summer Van Jones cloaked a message here in peace and love, and it stuck out to me. I want you to listen to what he says. "You handle the top down, but it's also bottom up, and inside out. Top down, bottom up, and inside out. So now your challenge, as you leave here, our challenge, is to take care of that bottom up part, and the inside out part, the hard part." The hard part. That's what did it for me, he said, I like, that's not what's wrong here. But I didn't know what this meant. This is a tried and trued technique that communists used to crush people of a nation between the members of the government at the top. Remember, you've taken care of the top part. What does that mean? You put the right radicals in power, you've taken care of the top part. Then, they get the radicals at the bottom to cause this chaos. If you don't believe me, that's fine. I tell you, don't take my word for anything. You go ahead and look it up yourself.

Let me take you back to where I took you at the beginning of this program, Czechoslovakia. I only told you half the story of what the Czechoslovakians thought of what was happening to their country in the 1940s. After WWII... .
